

The benefits

Simple to use: a classic timepiece, ready to wear straight out the box

Safety reassured: helping people remain independent at home

Peace of mind: for the wearer, loved ones and healthcare professionals

Personalised to the wearer and their support network: adapting to changing activity and routines

GPS tracking: activated in an emergency and securely shared with those that care

Dementia friendly: with features that support cognitive impairments

No call centre required: up to 8 familiar support contacts receive and respond to the wearer's alerts

Satisfied customers...

"I love it. People just don't believe it's a personal alarm watch. I'm not embarrassed to wear it and in fact I get a lot of compliments"

★ Trustpilot

Companion Watch wearers and their support network all rate us 'excellent'

Excellent experience

"Highly recommend this watch to anyone who has a person they need to monitor for falls or who may get lost outside"
Mark W

Peace of mind

"I bought a companion for my aunt who has dementia. I was looking for something that my aunt would happily wear and could detect where she was for her safety and this watch filled both those criteria, so I'd highly recommend" Dianna

Very useful health metrics data

"Mum wears her companion watch day and night. She shares her GP heart rate data from before, during and after a health condition episode, with her GP who can then see the impact of medication changes" Amy F
